Lake Como, Italy

VIA RELAISVILLAVITTORIA

Aside from your chances of running into George Clooney (he and wife Amal own a house on Lake Como), this alluring, Alpine retreat on the northern border of Italy is a peaceful place to bask in your newlywed bliss. Its beauty and grace is even more enchanting in the autumn, when the climate is more bearable and the touristy crowds have moved out. Your pocket will also thank you. Many restaurants and hotels in the area drop their rates during what's considered their off-season. Stay at Relais Villa Vittoria, which has a private villa-feel for a reasonable price. It has a relaxed, sophisticated Italian vibe and sits atop the shores of the lake. You and your new Mr. or Mrs. can enjoy panoramic views of the surrounding landscape, including the stunning snow-capped mountains. Spend your days sipping champagne on the terrace or lakefront garden, swimming in the resort's glass-rimmed infinity pool or take a quick ferry ride over to nearby lake towns and villages. Add these healthy alternatives to pasta to your diet before your trip, then load up on the real thing when you're there.
